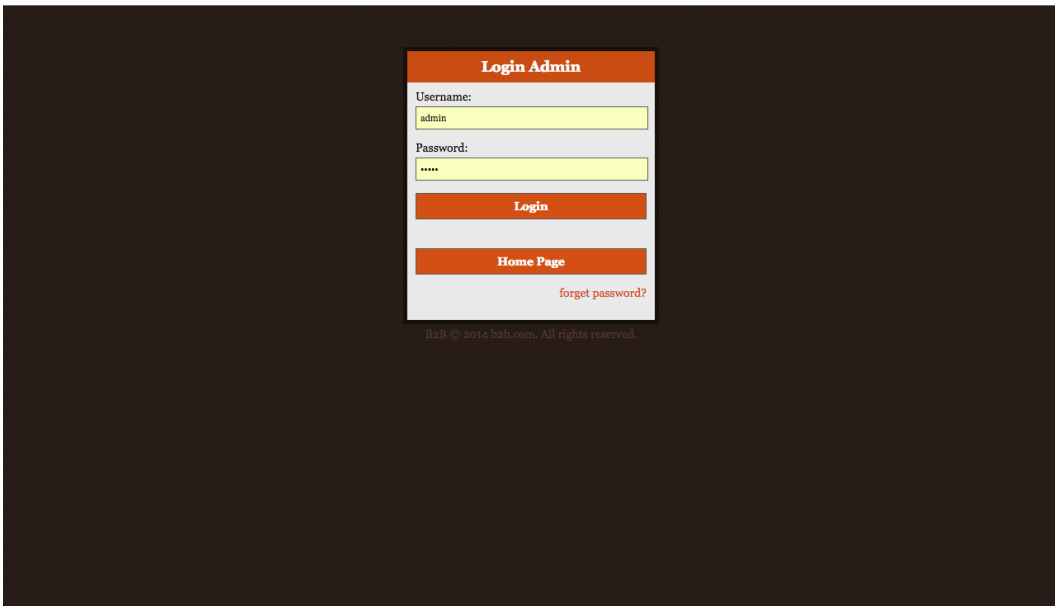
Login Admin



In this manual, you will be able to identify each function of the Admin Panel, and how it works. This is an Administration Manual that will explain how the administrators can interact with the back-end panel. We will start with the Login Admin. The Login Page is the first page that the Admin will interact with. The Admin has to enter the Username and Password in order to have an access to the panel. If the Username or Password is incorrect, a small warning will appear under that specific textfield.

There are two buttons and one link on the Login Admin:
1- The Login button that takes you to the main panel
2- The Home Page button that takes you back to your restaurant main page (if any)
3- The Forget My Password link that takes you to another page where you can reset your password. In order to reset the password you need to provide your username. After you have clicked on Send, you should get an email with the new password.

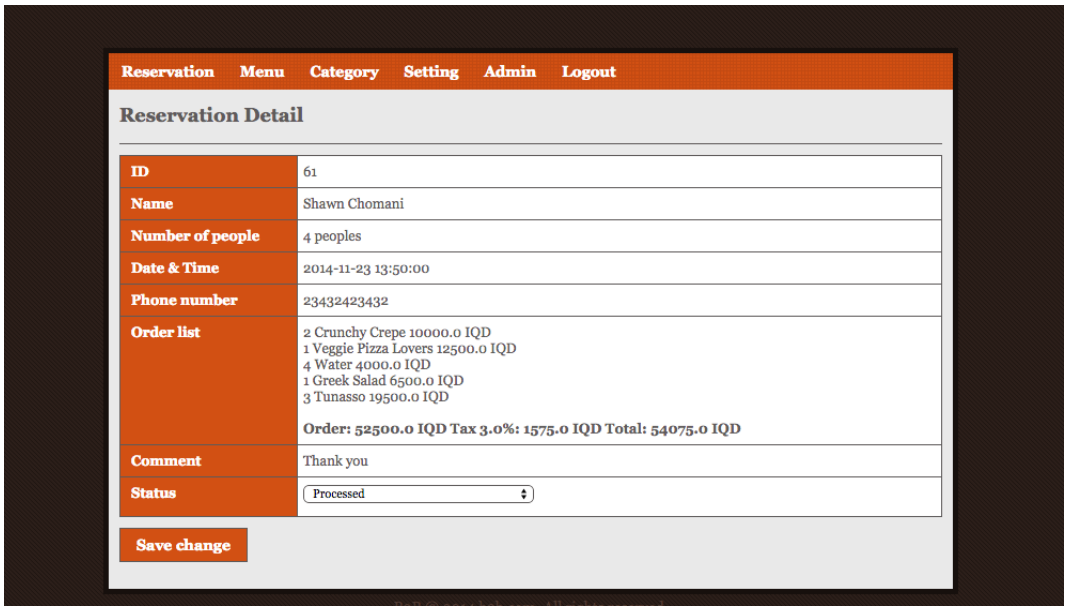
Main Menu – Reservations

After logging in, a Main Menu will show up at the top. Reservation is the first button that is selected by default. The Reservation has a list of all the reservations available whether it is old or new. All the listed reservations are from different users (people) who are requesting a table at your restaurant. New reservations will show up on the list accordingly.

Under the Action column, there are two buttons next to each reservation:

1- View Details where you can see all the details of the guest (Name, number of people, date and time, phone number, order list, comments, and the status).



All the information are not editable except for the Status where you can change. Status is a method that is used to send a configuration text message to the guest. In order for the guest to know that the reservation is delivered, you as an Admin have to change the status to Proceed.

Please do not forget to Save after changing the reservation Status

2- Delete button where you can delete a particular reservation (Not Recommended – You Cannot Undo This Action)

At any point of your work you can Logout from the panel.

Main Menu – Category

In this section you can add a Category to your application. As you may noticed in the picture below, there is a list of all the categories available in that restaurant. As an Admin, you can add your own Category.

You can add category by clicking on the Add New Category button that is located on the button left of the screen.
Please follow the steps to Add New Menu:

- Category Name where you can add the category's
- Image where you can add an image by browsing your console
- After you finish all the fields, you can either Submit or Cancel

Back to the Category list > Under the Action column, you may do the followings:

- Edit where you can edit a particular category

- Delete where you can delete a category

At any point of your work you can Logout from the panel.

Main Menu – Menu (Meals)

In this section you can add a Menu to your category. As you may noticed in the picture below, there is a list of all the menus available in that restaurant. As an Admin, you can add your own Menus.
